

gender deconstructs itself

According to Patriarchy, Angela Chaos is neither male nor female.

	Male	Female
Biology/Nature	Penis=XY chromosome	Vagina=XX chromosome
Behavior/Social	Masculinity: In charge, decisive, prone to violence, “take action,” rational, strong, confident, “the provider,” incommunicative, leader. independent, aggressive, unemotional, rational,	Femininity: Polite, quiet, agreeable, graceful, emotional, sensual, demure, unselfish, servile, submissive, vulnerable, always smiling, peaceful, gentle, innocent, sexual but not too sexual, good.
Biology + Behavior Identity	Deep voice, short hair, big muscles, athletic, hairy.	Soft voice, long hair, slender/skinny, big breasts, physically weak, hairless.

Biologically, I am female. Behaviorally, I am clearly male (those who know me recognize that I tend toward “masculine” behavior). Don’t even get me started on the blurry line where behavior and biology supposedly “come together”—our gender identity. I wear the symbols of both the genders when it comes to physical appearance. Apparently, like some sick sorta destiny or housewife-hell fate, I’m supposed to act a certain way and even think a certain way based on the fact that I have a vagina...get real: it ain’t that kinda party!

In our culture, behavior and biology are “naturally” supposed to “match,” and in me they don’t: I am proof that the way our culture looks at gender and sex is flawed. I am queer. Resist either/or thinking ... Support the basic fucking freedom for someone to exist as neither woman nor man—or even as both!
